Damage 233 Jap Aircraft and 31 Enemy Vessels

Advanced Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam—Carrier planes of the daring and powerful U. S. Task Force 58, raiding the Tokyo area for the second time in little more than a week, destroyed or damaged at least 233 Jap aircraft and 21 enemy vessels, headquarters announced today.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in a special communique, told of the daring penetration of Japanese home waters in which Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's airmen blasted enemy air, communications and industrial installations at the Nipponese capital as well as on Hachijo Island, only 150 miles south of Tokyo Bay.

Though there was no immediate official indication as to the size of the aerial armada which pounded the Japs just nine days after blasting some 659 planes and 36 surface craft in the Tokyo-Yokohama area, observers at Guam recalled that in the previous assault at least 1200 planes participated. It was thought probable that at least as many took part in these assaults.

In the strikes, American losses were placed at nine planes and four pilots lost, while "minor damage" was suffered by two light units of the task force which again escaped "major" damage.

Besides inflicting such telling blows to the Jap air and naval strength, the U. S. airmen dealt out devastating punishment to the key Nakajima aircraft plant at Ota, about 50 miles from Tokyo. As a result of carrier and superfortress attacks, at least 75 per cent of the Nakajima buildings were described as destroyed and some 15 per cent heavily damaged.

U. S. Now Part and Parcel of Europe's Destiny

London—The Tri-Partite conference at Yalta has made the U. S. a part and parcel of Europe's destiny, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today in a lengthy address demanding a vote of confidence in his government's war and peace policies.

With another warning to the German people that defeat is inevitable and nothing can shatter unity of the Allied Nations, Churchill said: "The ties binding the three powers have grown, and the United States has entered deeply and constructively into the life and salvation of Europe."

Further resistance by the Nazis, Churchill said, will only cause endless suffering.

The British leader's statement was made as he went before the House of Commons to ask a vote of confidence on the decisions reached by his government with the United States and Russia at the Big Three conference.

The predominant impression he gained at Yalta, Churchill said, was that the Soviets desire to live in honorable friendship and equality with the western democracies, and their word is their bond that they will stand by their obligations.

Commons was packed with the biggest attendance of the war as debate on the Crimea conference was opened. The Prime Minister was greeted by a roar of cheers as he entered to take the floor in Commons.

POLITICAL ACTION IS FIRST JOB OF CITIZENS

Senator Owlett Says People
Can Have the Kind of
Gov't They Want

DUTY IS NEGLECTED

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—During the next few years "political action must be the first job of every citizen who loves his country," Senator G. Mason Owlett, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, declared today at the annual meeting of the association held in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

"Machinery exists whereby the people can have, through the ballot box, the kind of government they want," he said.

"The trouble has been that those who wish to discard the American system of freedom and individualism and who want a socialized, collectivized state, have been working, while we others have neglected our duties as citizens, and too many have done nothing about it."

"The Hillmans and the Wallaces, the 'Reds' and the 'Pinks,' have been working 365 days a year. Their propaganda has been put out daily, cleverly designed to mislead the people, and we have tried to overcome it all once every four years, in two or three months of a campaign."

"The vast majority of the American people, be they workers, managers, professional men, shopkeepers or others, are just as anxious as you and I to preserve individual freedom, initiative and opportunity. They are just as anxious that we not have in this country State Socialism."

"But the majority are not conscious of the signposts and the trends, and the clever schemes, thoroughly camouflaged, that have been dished out with high-sounding words and professedly laudable objectives by those who, while professing to believe as you and I, are in fact going down an entirely opposite highway."

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Wallace Picture

Washington, Feb. 27. POLITICS is an illogical business. Often you win when you lose—or the reverse.

That certainly is true of newspapers; sometimes it is true of individuals. A newspaper is rarely damaged by losing an election. What hurts is to support an unsound cause in an unfair way.

Even when the cause is sound, there is always an irresistible temptation to overpraise. Then, victory means the successful candidate cannot measure up to his pre-election advertisements and there is an unfavorable reaction.

costs they must have the job. To this end the country has been flooded with the most extraordinary propaganda ever put out in behalf of a nominee for a Cabinet post. It makes all previous records seem insignificant.

A LARGE part of this propaganda comes from the expensively equipped CIO and Mr. Hillman's PAC. But it is actively supplemented by the American Labor party, the so-called "Liberal party" of New York, and the radical daily and weekly press of that city. In addition various New Deal editors, columnists and commentators have gone to extreme limits in urging Mr. Wallace's claims—and these are echoed by the CIO senators who lead his fight. The chief tenor of the Wallace publicity is that he is one of the greatest living men, endowed by God with wisdom and virtue high above all ordinary humans, the possessor not only of inspired vision but great administrative ability—in brief, a Superman. The opposition is depicted as sinister, selfish, reactionary, and a foul plot to destroy this noble creature is alleged.

THIS picture is so extravagant and out of proportion that one would think Mr. Wallace himself would be appalled. Continued on Page Two Thou who feedest us below!

Source of all we have or know!
Grant that with Thy saints above
We may reach Thy feast of love!

Rejoicing in the blessings that are ours, our Father, we praise Thy holy name for thy continual goodness unto us. We thank Thee for supplying our daily needs and we know, oh Lord, that day by day we may look unto Thee with confidence in the knowledge that we shall never want. Always the testimony of the saints is before us that Thou hast never failed and so we pray of Thee that Thou wilt continue to supply our needs daily, and we pray that our gratitude might be such that we might continually be giving praise unto Thy holy name, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

STRONG DEFENSE TILT

Benslem Scores Field Goal
In The Third Quarter

Holding their opponents scoreless from the field in the first half, the Bristol High girls scored a 17-8 victory over the Benslem Lassies on the high school floor.

The only point made by the visitors in the first half was a foul converted by "Ginny" Oliver. While the Bristol defense was doing this Brownlee, Janico, and S. Bielecki managed to score 8 points to build up a Bristol lead.

Benslem scored a field goal in the third quarter, made by Harrison, and closed the game by having Dunkerly score twice in the final session. Brownlee added a pair of third period while Bielecki scored double-digits for Bristol in the two and Janico added a foul to give Bristol a third quarter lead of 15-4.

Although the Bristol victory seemed one-sided, Coach Miss Hackman feels that the girls are still lacking in their passing.

NAVY DEFEATS CAVALRY FIVE

With the Navy beating the Cavalry five, 13-7, the Air Corps took undisputed first place in the Bristol High School Junior League by defeating the Commandos, 24-13. Albert Lynn led the Navy to the triumph while Jimmy Sottile's 18 points had much to do with the Air Corps' win over their opponents.

In the other games played, the Marines won over the Coast Guard, 17-7, and the Snipers stung the Sea Bees, 12-6.

The standing is as follows:
Team	won	lost
Air Corps	4	0
Cavalry	0	4
Sea Bees	0	4
Commandos	0	4
Marines	4	0
Coast Guard	0	4
Snipers	4	0
Navy	4	0

Martin, of the Commandos, is the leading scorer of the circuit with a total of 74 points. Sottile is in second place with 59 points while Harmon, of Cavalry, is trailing in third place with 47 points, six more than Willie Cochrane, of the Snipers.

Employees in the electric light and sewer departments at Quakertown were granted wage increases at a special meeting of Quakertown borough council last week. The purpose of the meeting was to bring the wages of men in these departments up to a par with men employed in the other departments.

Employees in the other departments of the borough had their wages boosted during the past year or two, and this left the employees in the electric light and sewer departments at a lower proportionate rate of pay.

The boost in wages totals $2,713.36 for the year or a weekly

Smoother...and better

• Whee! It's fun to fly lickety-split down the hill when the snow is right and the air is crisp. And it's fun, too, to drink smoother, creamier, better tasting Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk!

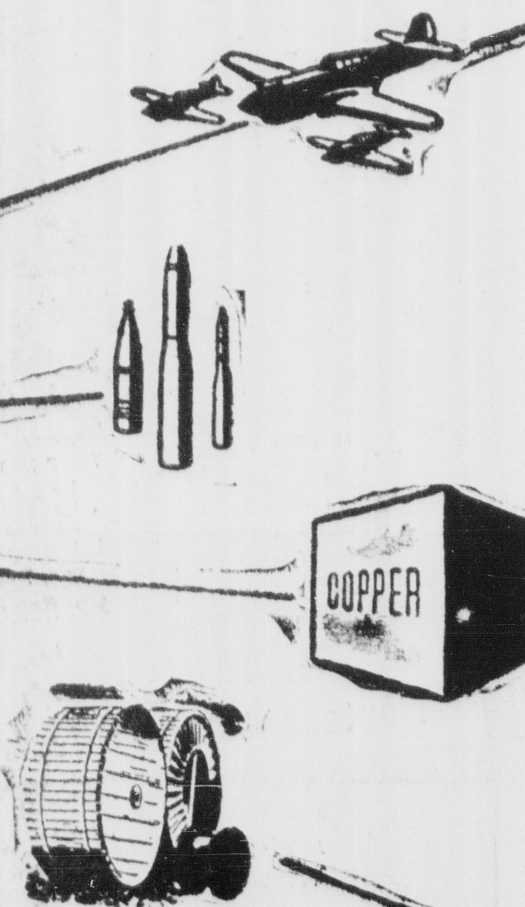

• This extra-good milk that puts roses in young cheeks makes a real hit with children because every single drop is so rich. It's mighty welcome at meals and after school. It's such a satisfying, different, good-for-you milk that even folks who were "never much for drinking milk" finish the glass and like it.

• Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk brings you the precious vitamins, minerals, and proteins of milk at their nourishing best. For homogenizing breaks up the food particles in milk, mixes them thoroughly for easier, faster digestion. If you're not already enjoying Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk at your house, why don't you try it now?

• Ask your Supplee milk man or woman to start leaving "Homogenized" or get it at the store... and judge for yourself how really rich and better it tastes.
